But to pass a bluff, and see a four hand
Flush cast upon the board
Doth stir the wrath of
Any pair of kings,
In whose grand faith we
Next time call three trays,
And thus lose our cause of action.
—Jacox and Wm. Shake.

An old man from Way-Back shuffled himself into an Optimus car the other day, just as it was turning on to Madison-st., and after seating himself with a quick jerk, a la Solon Shingle, he gazed around the interior with an inquisitive expression on his face. His spectacled orbits took in one advertisement after another until he came to a dead stop, scratched a little hayseed out from under his hat, and muttered in an undertone: "W-e-l-l, I wonder what that means, by gosh!" The other passengers became interested in the old man's occasional mutterings, but their curiosity was not satisfied until the car reached the corner of Clark and Madison-sts., when the old man clumsily raised his right arm, walking stick and all, clutched the bell-rope with a tremendous jerk, knocked the stumps off a high hat that sat next to him, but he stopped the car, and sat down on a pug dog that belonged to the lady who sat on the other side of him. After the dog, a dead silence prevailed. Nobody got out. The surprised conductor put his smiling face inside the car and beckoning to the man from Way-Back said: "Do you want to get out here?" "No, I don't want to get out here." "What in sheol did you stop the car for?" "Gosh all hemlock, don't it say up there on that sign stop this car at Willoughby, Hill & Co.'s, corner Clark and Madison-sts., and I thought if the company wanted it stopped that, an' you wan't lookin' to your dooty, that I'd stop it, tho' I don't see what in thunder they want it stopped here for, by gosh!" The passengers roared, the conductor was mad, the driver swore, the horses kicked, but they reached the limit on time. 'Twas a "five cent" limit.

NOTHING "LIMITED" ABOUT

There is no "limit" to the immensity of their stock and resources, an order for Clothing that they cannot undertake to fill, and there is no Clothing equal to the

The Democratic victory in New York State was not a surprise to those who have been following the political situation there. The Democratic leaders have been confident of success for several weeks, and their confidence was based upon the knowledge that the Republican party was divided and that the Democratic party was united. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a candidate for governor who was acceptable to the whole party, while the Republicans had a candidate who was acceptable to only a part of the party. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a platform which was acceptable to the whole party, while the Republicans had a platform which was acceptable to only a part of the party. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with energy and enthusiasm, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with indifference and lack of enthusiasm. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with intelligence and skill, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with ignorance and stupidity. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with honesty and integrity, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with dishonesty and corruption. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with courage and determination, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with cowardice and irresolution. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with wisdom and foresight, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with folly and short-sightedness. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with patriotism and devotion to the public good, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with selfishness and devotion to private interests. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with loyalty and devotion to the principles of the party, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with disloyalty and disregard for the principles of the party. The Democratic victory was due to the fact that the Democrats had a campaign which was conducted with harmony and unity of purpose, while the Republicans had a campaign which was conducted with discord and disunion. Carpenter has been made to the Sixth Ward at Health and has been busily engaged for the past 24 hours in the preparation of the new quarters. He has been kept so busy that he has not had time to speculate as to what kind of a Health Officer he will make, but he says he will do his best to discharge the duties of the office to the satisfaction of everybody.

Joseph Park, a freed slave-servant of Dr. A. Dean, who has been known therewith yesterday to the West Chicago Avenue Church, charged with keeping him in the young lady's employ against his will, by which he has been kept from receiving a portion of his wages, was discharged from custody, the Justice holding that the evidence showed that the young lady had been kept in the employ of Dr. Dean by her own consent, and that she had been paid for all she had earned.

The marriage of Charles G. Hamburger of Chicago and Miss Lena Hough of Omaha took place at the residence of the bride's parents, No. 464 Ogden-av., yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rabbi Hirsch of Sinai Congregation, assisted by Rabbi Mayer of Chicago. The bride was attended by Miss Lillie Hough, sister of the bride, and Miss Hattie Hamburger, sister of the groom. The groom was attended by Mr. Leon Hough of Omaha, brother of the bride, and Mr. Sol Hamburger of Chicago, brother of the groom. The bride was handsomely attired in white satin, trimmed with point lace, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of white silk, trimmed with lace, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom's attendant wore the conventional black. The presents were numerous and costly. Mr. and Mrs. Hamburger left last night for Omaha, where they will reside.

Chicago's advantages as a convention city have been urged so frequently in the past that the Republican and Democratic hosts with their many followers scarcely need further invitation to be present. The following card, however, issued by the Chicago Association of Commerce, will be found interesting reading by those who are looking for a place to hold their conventions:

The Chicago Association of Commerce, desiring to call the attention of the Republican and Democratic hosts with their many followers contemplating visits to the Republican and Democratic conventions, to the facilities for taking care of guests, respectfully invites attention to the fact that Chicago has ample hotel accommodations for all who may desire to visit her during the coming year, and that the rates will be found reasonable. The Association has also made arrangements with the railroads centering here for the transportation of visitors to and from the conventions at rates which will be found very low. Those who contemplate visiting Chicago during the coming year will find it to their advantage to correspond with the Secretary of the Association, who will be pleased to furnish all information in his power, and to aid in securing such accommodations as may be desired.

A VERY FOOLISH ORDER.

ASSESSORS ARE TOLD THEY SHOULD NOT MAKE ASSESSMENTS.

Some of the Men Quit Work but the Majority Declare the Mandate Will Result in Much Trouble—Board Insists That the Courts Clothe It Even Under Injunction—Report and Its Changes—Text of the "Absolute Ruling."

Decision by the Board of Review of the latest batch of the city tax and assessment complaints to overthrow the order of the Supreme Court that no more should be done by them were made Thursday night and Friday. Friends of the Board declared the following to Chicago an absolute order.

[illegible]

Of the big establishments, Swenson, Armour, and Goldblatt worked on as usual and paid no attention to the order. Schwartz, Pyott and Sinaiko & Engel closed doors as ordered. Of the men who came into their employ Friday many were on an average quantity of wages. It was presently understood in the business district that the city assessors on the South Side would not resume work Friday, but would wait for further instructions from the Board of Review.

The men who handle that board have been overseers of them, and what that is four of them refuse to supply their regular customers or turn them away empty handed. Swenson, Armour, and Goldblatt did a big business Friday, and had a large supply on hand when it came to their notice.

The bakers of Chicago are fortunate. Yeast, flavors, and preservatives form three of the principal materials with which they work, and, however much politics interest bakers in the main, they are not likely to be affected by the order. Bakers, butchers, and grocers did a big business Friday, and had a large supply on hand when it came to their notice.

The Kinsella arrests dazed the city at an early hour this morning, and during the forenoon the usual scene and confusion of Dearborn, Fifth, and the surrounding neighborhoods of Quincy, Custom & Dartmouth at No. 105, to the Sugar Loaf, a large crowd congregated about an hour, which stood and stared at the building. Some of the crowd, however, remained on the corner and pointed out to the curious the scene of the robbery. The police, however, kept the crowd moving, and no one was allowed to stand in front of the building. Many of the curious, however, were not content with a mere glance at the building, and they went into the basement and looked around. Some of the visitors were not content with looking around, but they went into the basement and looked around. RIVER PARK ANNEXATION.

AN ORGANIZED EFFORT TO PUT THE SCHEME THROUGH.

A Petition Asking the Trustees of the Village to Take Some Action to Hold Matters—The Scheme of the Officials to Make the People Pay the Expense of Their Endeavor to Annex Themselves to Chicago.

A petition is being signed in Hyde Park which now has about 150 names asking the Board of Trustees to take some action to-morrow evening to stop the village from voting on the annexation question. The signers of the petition claim that the back taxes and other incidents of the struggle, and if annexation takes place these should not be subject to increase. This petition will likely be presented to the Trustees to-morrow. At any rate, the question of the legality of the measure will be raised, for those opposed to the annexation movement are preparing to bring the matter into the courts, and secure a ruling as to the best method to decide upon a plan of action.

At Wednesday's meeting of the Hyde Park Board of Trustees Village Attorney Freeman submitted a communication to the effect that the petitions for the incorporation of portions of the town of Lake, and which were presented to the Board at the last meeting, were not sufficient, and that the petitioners ought to have the matter submitted to the voters at the April election. It was as if some one had suggested a serious matter to the Legislature. It was as if some one had suggested that the Board of Trustees should not be considered a serious matter by the Legislature. It was as if some one had suggested that the Board of Trustees were good to work themselves into a cold sweat. The communication, which was from Attorney Wallace, of Washington, acted in that way. All over the room, and in every direction, trustees, clerks, and others looked at each other in blank astonishment. Attorney Wallace, who represents the interests of Lake Township, which is opposed to annexation, and which has been trying to get the Legislature to pass a bill to that effect, is known to be a shrewd lawyer, and his opinion is considered of great value. Mr. Wallace is known in Springfield as a man who has been successful in getting bills through the Legislature, and he is considered a serious matter in the Legislature. THE ANNEXATION LITTLE SCHEME.

First, the scheme of the annexationists is to have the petitions presented to the Board of Trustees at the next regular meeting, which occurs on Wednesday next, and to have the petitions referred to the Committee on Judiciary. This committee, which consists of Trustees Hopkins, Hall, and Taylor, is composed entirely of annexationists. Their duty will be to report favorably on the petitions, and to recommend that the Board of Trustees submit the question to the voters at the April election. This will be done at the next meeting of the Board of Trustees, which occurs on Wednesday, Nov. 23. The petitioners will then be ready to present their petitions to the Board of Trustees, which will be composed entirely of annexationists, and will submit the question to the voters at the April election. The petitioners will then be ready to present their petitions to the Board of Trustees, which will be composed entirely of annexationists, and will submit the question to the voters at the April election. THE OPPOSITION'S LITTLE SCHEME.

First, the scheme of the anti-annexationists is to have the petitions presented to the Board of Trustees at the next regular meeting, which occurs on Wednesday next, and to have the petitions referred to the Committee on Judiciary. This committee, which consists of Trustees Hopkins, Hall, and Taylor, is composed entirely of annexationists, and will, of course, report favorably on the petitions, and recommend that the Board of Trustees submit the question to the voters at the April election. This will be done at the next meeting of the Board of Trustees, which occurs on Wednesday, Nov. 23. The petitioners will then be ready to present their petitions to the Board of Trustees, which will be composed entirely of annexationists, and will submit the question to the voters at the April election. PARIS, Nov. 12.—Everyone is glad here to-day to the prospect existing to fight against Socialistic agitation. The power to arrest a society have been struggling with Socialists and Boulangists to prevent their meeting to-day place such. Some of the most prominent Radical and Liberal republicans of London have spoken to me in favor of the right to hold public meetings in this place. They declare that there is nothing more innocent, and that the Government of Paris should have suggested their meeting to accept the proposition forbidding an assemblage of their fellow citizens on that account of their fellow citizens on that account of fifty people will have been to abuse the meeting to-day place will be one of the most remarkable of the Liberal chiefs. They think that to do so will be very grave mistake. Rights as citizens and that the action have no authority and can be better maintained by resistance to foreigners recently and that if a conflict ensues the police will be to blame. Even Liberals state that Ministers to-day police have to the person when they have Government has not yet made public any about of this, but it is understood that the consideration the meeting. Upon the other hand, the police are resolved to maintain the right of public meeting, and to suppress by the action that the Liberals did meet with an interruption if they take to public, to the police of London, but the Paris police are resolved to maintain the right of public meeting, and that the police will be ready with a couple of thousand men to suppress any disturbance. Further steps may be taken to-day to prevent an outbreak. Deputy Laisant has called upon Minister of the Interior to-day to prevent the meeting of Boulangists in Paris last and the Ministers to prevent demonstrations by the authorities of Socialist party, to the supposition has been received that Boulangist party will attempt to hold in this place into the street that the authorities of police to-day to prevent the demonstration of the

NEW YORK REVOLUTION COMMISSION HAS CALLED TO ASSIGN.

The Recovery of the Treasury Asks for a Complete Statement of Their Receipts and Expenditures—Reports of Their Bodies "Privileged" Absolutely Short of the Powers of a Magnificent Court—A Proxy Fight About Mr. Stokes—Death of the Tammanyite Hilton Dying.

New York, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—A new movement looks that the Secretary of the Treasury may decided to call upon the Commissioners of Emigration for a formal statement of their receipts and expenditures. The further accusation that Mr. Fassett would in his next annual report "clean up" the management of the Emigration Bureau at this port greatly increased the excitement among the interested parties. None of the Commissioners denied that the action of the Secretary was the opening wedge by which the entire management of immigration affairs would be placed in the hands of officers of the United Government, thereby freeing this city entirely from the taint of the "privileges" in the parties. There is now the fear of the threatened change that there would actually interfere with their business schemes for making money out of the poor emigrants. If the power of the Commissioners' Board should be taken away would become of the "pull" hunters at the Emigration Bureau? Throughout this city to the United States Immigration Bureau, especially when they discovered the autograph of Colonel Fassett's handwriting. Superintendent Wood, from the original draft, applied to Secretary Foster, to the effect of C. E. Fassett's letter, to the Commissioners of Emigration, directing that the Commissioners should not make any contracts for the feeding of immigrants, and that the Commissioners should not make any contracts for the feeding of immigrants, and that the Commissioners should not make any contracts for the feeding of immigrants, and

EVANSTON OBSERVATORY.

ITS NEW HOME OF THE SEE ORIGINAL DISCOVERIES.

Together with the President of the Northwestern University there for the observatory comes the fact that the adoption of the question of location and of architectural treatment of the Dearborn Observatory and all its appurtenances by trustees of university and the appointment of the Dearborn Scientific Association Council Committee that are to operate this unit in the

"The Science would like to publish the plans of the new observatory."

"No plans have been adopted by the board," replied the President, cautiously. "If you will come into the office I will show to you what plans have been discussed, but no definite plan will be adopted or will result in any more preparatory to the erection."

He led the way to the office, and produced some sketches.

"Yours," said he, "is the first idea I have seen about observatories that the public at large has, after which the public are not interested. It would not be well to have a building which would not be used for the purpose for which it is intended. A friend of mine, Professor Barnard, of the Yerkes Observatory, has written a book which will be published in the near future, and in which he has brought out many points which are of interest to the public at large. I have had the pleasure of reading the manuscript, and I have also had the pleasure of discussing with him many points which are of interest to the public at large. I have also had the pleasure of discussing with him many points which are of interest to the public at large. The Emperor and Empress of Brazil are dead; a great exile deposits Saturday evening at the house of Mme. de Montalvo Barros, whose daughter's marriage they so recently had signed. The Emperor had no province nor ministers to govern. His sons-in-law, contemptible little dreams, but one has such a really literary excitement, and one might fancy that eagerly enough Isabel could spend time for abolition studies. But here is surely more exile. When I first met her, years ago, it was yesterday, somehow with snow. She wore a fur tippet or wide sleeved gown, which parted over an ermine, and a muff with a long ermine tail; and yet, I ought to be ashamed, her beauty broke on the supported and luminous of such notes have entertainment for me. The consequent exercise of attributes to whom she bestowed with her fur to a most odd way was not, our acquaintance does not go beyond to the American and Portugal entertainment prepared for her and her father. Her head would, with grace and more ease, to chat with them. I should say that Mme. Viscosa is not older than our system. She is not thin, though not what one would call stout. But there is a dearth of sentiment in the expression which is picturesque and makes her completely quench the sense of her face and the dreams of the theatre, but I should say from observation of the habit of her features, that I should say from observation of the habit of her features, that I should say from observation of the habit of her features, that
